

Who We Are?

Futica provides Information Technology solutions, which enables companies to cost effectively, manage and develop information technology environment.

We specialize in Software Development, E-Business Solutions, Database Services, WEB/WAP Technologies, Hardware Solutions and IT Consulting.

Our expertises facilitate the creation and development of your company to focus on core business functions and increase efficiency and effectiveness.

Our Goals and Missions

To be the leader in providing complete IT solutions to our customers through creating value and improve the bottom line.

To understand and empower our customers to take advantage of IT Business solutions.

To provide the highest degree of excellent IT solutions and customer support.

Our Services

Futica's Professional Services provides a full range of IT services to help our customers deploy our services successfully. From project definition and management to specific technical expertise required at any phase in your project

- Software Development

software customization and bespoke development

- E-Business Solutions

Supply Chain Management (SCM), Customer Relationship Management (CRM), Business Intelligent (BI)

- Database services

Database Administration, Database Design/Modeling/Data warehousing Data Migration and Replication

- Internet/Web Technologies

E-Commerce Web Site Development, Mail Server, Web Server, Firewall, Proxy server set-ups, Implementation, Load balancing/Testing and hosting

- Hardware Solutions

Hardware resellers and Hardware maintenance and Networking.

- IT Consulting

Product and Technology consulting

Providing complete software solutions....

We offer you an entire range of software services across a variety of platforms and technologies. Our solution models are varied, scalable and designed to meet diverse client requirements. We have strong core competencies as well as the versatility to adapt to changing business requirements.

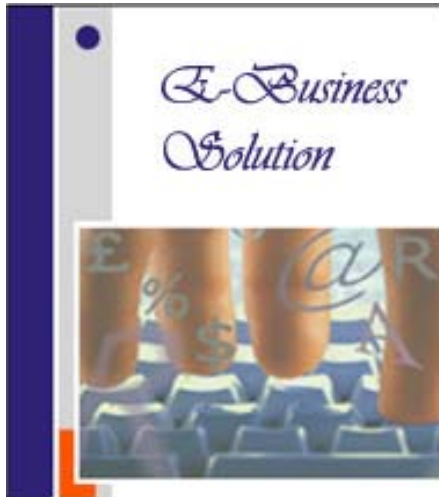

We develop robust & quality software at affordable costs. The main feature in our software development are

- Timely and Quality delivery through Extreme Programming (XP) Software Methodology
- Fast and well-tailored implementation cycle which effectively facilitate rollover

Customer is kept well informed and involved in every phase of software development.

Core Technologies

- Java, Java Beans, J2EE, JSP, EJB, Servlet
- Visual Basic, .NET, C#.NET, ASP
- HTML/XML/ VBScript/JavaScript
- IIS /Apache
- Windows Server, Linux, Solaris
- Oracle, DB2, SQL Server, MySQL, Access, FoxPRO Databases

Delivering Enterprise Business Solutions...

The Enterprise Business Solutions has created well-publicized rewards for many businesses.

Futica provide services that address every phase of an enterprise business venture from Hardware and software purchases through development, implementation and on-going support.

Customer Relationship Management –CRM

Futica's CRM provides automate Sales, marketing and service business process.

Supply chain management – SCM

Futica's SCM helps business to optimally plan and execute the movement of goods and materials through the supply chain.

Our SCM allows a business to estimate the future demand for its products, enabling planners to optimally position supply resources and inventory.

Business Intelligent-BI/Data warehousing

Our business intelligence solutions provide data collection, data mining and data reporting that enable trend analysis, forecasting and timely information to support strategic management decisions.

- Understand and even anticipate your customers' needs, wants and buying patterns to attract and retain customers and stave off competition.
- Identify and respond to new business opportunities faster and efficiently.

Implementing information to work....

These days Information technology is database-driven.

A well designed database will effectively capture desired data, and store it in a format making it easy to use in the future for your own purposes.

Futica can develop a database to meet your needs. Using the latest technology and extensive testing we will develop a custom database for your needs

Database Administration

- Set up your database software, tailor and keep it current
- Design and construct data architectures specific to your business systems and processes.
- Ensure seamless interaction between database and business systems for speed, accuracy and integrity
- Plan and implement back-up, recovery and maintenance routines as well as provide emergency responses.

Database design/Modeling

We provide

- Relational database design
- Object-Relational database design
- Enterprise to Departmental database solutions

Data Migration

As data systems age, IT managers face difficult decisions regarding long-term viability. When the time is right to select a migration path, it is invaluable to have the experience on your side. We can migrate among various operating systems and database products.

Internet Drives and Connect the World

The web technology has created well-publicized rewards for many businesses. The strategic need to develop and embed digital and web based interactive solutions into marketing strategies is stronger than ever.

Futica have the skills and experience to help leverage the Internet and transform your business into an efficient E-Business.

We apply technologies to maximize your business opportunities.

Futica develop a total B2B, a B2C solution that always exceeds your expectations. Our E-commerce development solution includes:

- Load balancing and high availability E-Commerce Solutions
- E-store design and development
- Continuous e-store management and maintenance
- Secure order page for submitting real time credit card purchase requests
- Integration with back-office systems and processes
- Internal reporting
- On-line order tracking
- Customer service support
- Incentives and promotions
- Catalogs management

Online Security

Security is vital to your success in any E-Business based application. Failure to use the best possible security technology puts your business and creditability at risk.

Futica uses only the most advanced security initiatives and methods. On-line encryption, certificates, and digital signatures ensure only authorized users can enter secure sections, conduct transactions, submit or obtain information, or prevent data corruption. Keeping your E-Business secure is one of our highest priorities.

Hardware Solutions

We provide Hardware/Network Solutions, Support, implementation and Migration.

Futica concentrates its efforts on customers needs. By providing you with all of the elements necessary to build your hardware Solution, we can service your needs with your overall objective in mind.

Hardware

We build a customized hardware solutions best suited to you and your business. We offer brand names and clone desktop & laptop computers and their peripherals such as printers, scanners, etc. We can provide you with the latest model at the most competitive prices. We use only the highest quality components in our cutting edge computer systems. We not only provide outstanding service; we do extensive quality control tests prior to installation to ensure proper configuration and component integrity.

Our systems are network compatible and can be used on your existing network or as a stand-alone system. Our network consultants can help you to improve your business with network solutions packages.

We tailor the hardware solutions to harmoniously integrate the diverse systems

Whether you require a small or large enterprise system, don't settle for anything less than a Customized Solution to address your needs.

Networking

Futica has the technology and expertise to design, integrate and deploy cross platform network operating systems solutions. Our expertise provides you with a wide knowledge and dedication of implementing the proper Network Infrastructure for your business.

We offer

- Cabling and Server room installation/Set-up
- Secure Firewall Internet Access for the entire LAN/WAN
- Secure Email Gateways
- Secure E-Commerce
- Backup & Recovery technologies

Futica has the ability and training to accomplish your small or enterprise Network solution.

What should be the offering to the market place?

Organizations can thrive and remain competitive only when they are able to harmonize strategic excellence with operational excellence. Futica can improve the competitiveness of customers through consulting practices that result in knowledge-intensive business solutions with appropriate Information technology components.

Futica's consulting practices are

Technology Consulting

- Select and implement the right technology strategy
- Develop architectures based on new e-enabling technologies and integrating solution building blocks into powerful business solutions
- Change directions in response to new technologies
- Support application development, component reuse and package implementations
- Deliver services to your customers consistently, efficiently and effectively
- Supplement your in-house capabilities with hard-to-find technology competencies

Product consulting

Product consulting consists of providing a new product service or new ways of delivering an existing product/ service.

Futica's Strategic Excellence consulting practice helps clients demystify the task of achieving Strategic Excellence. Futica's methodologies of achieving Strategic Excellence are through

- Conception
- Competence perspective development
- Detailing
- Conversion

Our Clients

Clients are the Asset To an organization...

Futica provides mission-critical reliability with the latest technologies to satisfy the customers.

We have provided services to leading technology companies including KPMG, PWC, Philips and HFC Bank.

We also provide solutions to wide range of companies across multiple industries - from banking, financial services, advertising, Catalogs and retail enterprises to government agencies.

